

LOUISVILLE DAILY COURIER.

VOLUME 29.

LOUISVILLE COURIER
W. N. HALEMAN... E. T. DURRITT... J. L. MCNEELEY.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED
BY THE
LOUISVILLE COURIER PRINTING COMPANY.
O F F I C E ;
NO. 51 & 53 Third St., Louisville, Ky.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING

One square [10 lines] $1.00 or less, extra.
One square each additional insertion..... 50
One square month, without alteration..... 50
One square three months..... 100
One square six months..... 150
One square twelve months..... 200
Each additional square month $1.00; each weekly $2.00.
One square changeable weekly $40; twice a week $50.
One square changeable weekly, six months $200.

All advertisements intended to draw attention to private enterprises or business, to inventions, improvements, and articles for sale, will be charged at the rate of $25 per insertion, and $5 a line for each subsequent insertion, and will not be published unless paid in advance.

All advertisements, without any exception, $25.

Advertisements in Weekly Courier 10 cents per line for the first insertion, and 5 cents a line for each subsequent insertion, and no insertion after length or time.

DAILY COURIER

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1859.

For Latest Telegraph Dispatches,
River and Steamboat News, Commercial
Matters, etc., see Fourth Page.

Our Weekly.

The Weekly Courier is issued this morning, and can be had at the clerk's desk at five cents per copy.

Our Fourth Page.

On our fourth page, this morning, will be found the usual amount of news, miscellaneous matter, telegraphic reports, markets, etc., etc.

R. R. REVILL.

We had the pleasure of a visit yesterday from Mr. Revill, our most excellent Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Mr. Revill will have a good time this winter with all his brother State officers, straightening out what is never known in the politics of this State, and more of the new dynasty will fill his place better than R. R. Revill. He is such a Clark as is rarely found, and the Democracy are justly proud of him.

A STUPID TYCOON.—Thursday morning a printer, who had received his wages, and was about to start to Cincinnati on the mailboat, was by some means delayed, taking partaking with his friends, maybe, until after the departure of the boat. On reaching the landing, carpet bag in hand, he was accosted by a very respectable looking individual, who soon accosted the pre-dicament he was in, and volunteered to take him to the Kafe May, then said to be in the canal, on his way to Cincinnati. They journeyed together to the mouth of the canal, but on reaching its cooling shades, the tycoons found himself so over-powered with fatigue or something else, that he was induced to take a nap on the bank. It is needless to add that on awaking late in the afternoon he discovered that his friend, carpet bag, money, and other moveables were all missing, and he had not yet been able to find even a trace of them—all had gone off together, and he was "strapped clean" of all his worldly pelf.

UNIT TEST SERVICES AT THE NEW LOCATION IN THE GRAVEYARD LOT, ON JEFFERSON STREET, BETWEEN ELEVENTH AND TWELFTH.—The opening services of the tent in the new location will take place to-morrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Robinson will preach and take up a collection with a view to repair the losses from the recent fall of the tent during a storm, and to meet the expenses for lights, etc., incident to carrying on the meetings at the tent every night, as has been done for six weeks, and will continue to be done. A general response in even a small sum from each one will raise $100 to $150, enough to keep the enterprise clear of embarrassments.

REV. MESSRS. BROWN, ROBINSON, AND DEERING will conduct the meetings every night next week, aided by Dr. Parsons on the following Sunday afternoon.

THE MECHANIC.—Some hungry fellow entered our premises just before last and relieved us of our crop of a dozen chickens. Not content with this, he took our market basket to carry off, the rest, they are good to hunger, but no room to eat a market basket. We however therefore, that the next visitant of this kind we have, will confine himself to food, if he is really hungry, and not take such a thing as a basket which no man ought to eat. To take a man's market basket to carry off stolen chickens, is as bad as ringing his door bell and making his servant admit a thief for the purpose of stealing.

J. G. LEACH.

Our friend Leach made a glorious race for the Legislature in Henry county, and beat a Democrat and Know Nothing together, with innumerable influences brought to bear against him, paid us a visit yesterday. He will make one of the very best of our legislators next winter, and we congratulate the Democracy of Henry upon the good sense they displayed in electing him.

Talented, energetic, industrious, and alerting, he will do just what a law-maker should do who understands the true interests of the State, and is ready and willing, and capable of attending to them.

LADIES!—Now is the time to learn the beautiful art of fancy painting taught by Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Lacy, at Webster & Brothers', Main street. Every young lady of taste will find it to their interest to give them a call. For a trifling sum, any one of natural taste can become master of an art that is not only beautiful, but useful in painting photographs, and thereby obtaining life-likenesses of their friends, in oil colors, at a trifling expense. Call and see specimens.

Aug 27.

MORE RASCALITIES.—Roderick, a slave and porter in the establishment of Castles & Torbitz, on Main street, has been detected in a series of rascallities, which amount in the aggregate, it is thought, to thousands of dollars. He has been stealing small packages of groceries at different times for several years, and, of course, some white men, who are greater villains, aided him in disposing of the stolen articles. The negro is in jail.

ROBERT WHALE DRUNK.—A man who had been putting into his mouth much of that enemy which causes the brain to die away, was robbed of his hat yesterday, while drunk and asleep on the side-walk. B. McGraw, the stealer of the hat aforesaid, was sent to prison for the offense, and the man who lost it was likewise caged for drunkenness.

NEW OMNIA LINE.—O'Hannon, Keen & Co. will run a line omnibus from the Louisville and Portland Union to Third street, out Third to Broadway, and up Broadway to Jackson, commencing on Monday. Our Louisville omnibuses are extending the area of travel, and the public, at least, are benefited thereby.

ON A VISIT.—Judge Johnston, of the Police Court, Chief Ray, of the police, and other city officials, left for the Queen City yesterday on a visit. His Honor, the Mayor, will preside in the Sixth street temple of justice this morning.

HORTICULTURAL EXHIBITION.—Those who wish to view a splendid show of fruit will not fail to attend the Horticultural show at Masonic Temple this morning. The display will be perhaps among the best of the season.

FARMERS' BANK.—John H. Hanna, Esq., on Saturday last resigned the office of President of the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, and Phillip Swigert, Esq., was unanimously chosen to fill his place.

REV. GORDON WILL preach in the lecture room of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, near the corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets, Sunday, at 10½ o'clock, A. M., and at 8 o'clock, P. M.

JOHN JAGGER.—John Jagger, of Louisville, Ky., for improvement in balancing mill stones, patented December 21, 1858; reissued Aug. 2, 1859.

BROWND.—Solomon Spears, aged about nine years, son of Abram Spears, of Paris, was drowned in a mill pond, in that place, last Saturday.

[Reported Expressly for the Louisville Courier.]

POLICE COURT.

GEORGE W. JOHNSTON, JUDGE.

Judge Johnston, Aug. 5.

DAUNTON PARK.—Mary Hunter and John E. Hawkins were severely presented on the charge of drunkenness. Mary was sent back to the care of the deceased in the Mexican war attended their companion-in-arms to his last resting place. Capt. Keating had been long ill.

JOHN YUGING.—John Yuting, a fugitive from justice, was committed to jail yesterday by Policeman Bligh. He is charged with stealing three gold watches in Cincinnati. One of them he sold, and another was found in his possession. Thieves who pass this way are sure to be picked up, so they would do well to keep watch.

THE CRESCENT SALOON.—The neatest and cosiest saloon in the city is the "Crescent," Taylor & Thorpe, proprietors, on Market, next door to Fourth street. Their liquors and cigars are pronounced the best by connoisseurs, and the proprietors of the Crescent a little clever than almost anybody. A superb lunch is served up at 10 o'clock, A. M., each day.

DEATH OF GEN. WM. M. SUDWELL.—We regret to learn that Gen. Wm. M. Sudwell, long a prominent and highly respected citizen of New Orleans, on the morning of 30th of July, at his residence, near Sharsburg, on paralysis, in the 67th year of his age. For over a quarter of a century he was clerk of the county court of Bath county, and always a deservedly high among the citizens, as a gentleman of worth and intelligence.—Mayfield Eagle.

PRIVATE ADVICE FROM CAIRO REPORT HEAVY SHIPS OF POTAS AND ONIONS TO NEW ORLEANS FROM THE OHL river and St. Louis. From the latter port alone, 10,000 barrels passed down last week. The New Orleans market is reported dull, with very large stocks.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO MR. C. S. SPENCER'S MILL OF MARKET STREET PROPERTY, THIS MORNING, COMMENCING BETWEEN ELEVENTH AND TWELFTH STREETS. THIS IS VALUABLE PROPERTY, AND THE SALE WILL BE PLEMPREY, BY ORDER OF THE OWNER, WHO IS A NON-RESIDENT. SEE ADVERTISEMENT.

LOUISVILLE DAILY COURIER.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 6, 1859.

NUMBER 31.

VOLUME 29.

LOUISVILLE COURIER
W. N. HALEMAN... E. T. DURRITT... J. L. MCNEELEY.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED
BY THE
LOUISVILLE COURIER PRINTING COMPANY.
O F F I C E ;
NO. 51 & 53 Third St., Louisville, Ky.

ONE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

ONE SQUARE EACH ADDITIONAL INSERTION..... 50

ONE SQUARE MONTH, WITHOUT ALTERATION..... 50

ONE SQUARE THREE MONTHS..... 100

ONE SQUARE SIX MONTHS..... 150

ONE SQUARE TWELVE MONTHS..... 200

EACH ADDITIONAL SQUARE MONTH $1.00; EACH WEEKLY $2.00.

ONE SQUARE CHANGEABLE WEEKLY $40; TWICE A WEEK $50.

ONE SQUARE CHANGEABLE MONTHLY $600.

ALL ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD, ARE CHARGED AT THE SAME RATE AS THOSE PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, WHETHER PUBLISHED IN THE COURIER OR IN THE HERALD,

DAILY COURIER

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED
BY THE
LOUISVILLE COURIER PRINTING COMPANY.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
Daily Courier per year.....$8 00
Daily Courier and Louisville Journal.....$10 00
Daily, five copies to a club one year.....$25 00
Weekly Courier.....$9 00
Two copies $20.
No paper ever sent unless paid for in advance.
Address to Louisville or first page for particular advertising.

LOUISVILLE:
SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1859.

Reading Matter on Every Page.

I.

In the time of the Antonines the Roman Empire is said by the historian of the Decline and Fall to have extended above 3,000 miles in breadth from the wall of Antoninus and the northern limits of Dacia to Mount Alles and the tropic of Cancer, and in length more than 3,000 miles from the western ocean to the Euphrates. The same authority says that the empire contained upwards of 1,600,000 square miles, for the most part of fertile and well cultivated land.

Italy was the heart of this vast empire. It was known by the different names of Heraclia, Saturnia, Latium Ausonia, Oenotria, &c., but, under whatever name it went, it was the garden of Europe and the center of the civilized world. It was divided into two parts, Gallia Cisalpina and Italia Propria. The first of these divisions extended from the mouth of the Rubicon to that of the Macra, and the second division from the last named line to the Straights of Messina. Within these two divisions, according to the historian, Pliny, were contained 14,000,000 inhabitants. This population consisted of innumerable tribes, but all were under the one grand Government of Rome.

Italy, however, was not under one government as of old, when war broke out a few weeks ago, between Austria on the one side, and Sardinia and France on the other. In the north, the Austrians ruled Lombardy and Venetie; in the northwest, the Sardinians held Savoy and Piedmont; the center was parcelled out into Parma, Modena, Lucca, Tuscany and the Papal States, while the southern portion was the Kingdom of Naples. There was no such thing as Italian nationality.—The scepter of the Cessars had departed, and a dozen rulers divided over the imperial power of the Antonines into provincial districts.

When Napoleon III determined to help Sardinia to drive the Austrians out of Italy, it was the hope of many that he would succeed, and that an Italian nationality would be established. These hopes have been disappointed. The only real change brought about in Italy by the late war was taking Lombardy from Austria and giving it to Sardinia. This does not lessen the number of rulers in Italy, nor approach the establishing of an Italian nationality. Italy still remains under the rule of numerous petty Princes, none of whom comes within reach of a first class sovereignty.

We do not think therefore that the Italian war is ended. Armies have only ceased to fight for a time. There can be no permanent peace while so many rulers attempt to control Italy. They will quarrel among themselves, as did the petty tribes of the ancient Peninsula, until another Roman power swallows up the whole. Nor are there many persons in this country, at least, who would regret to see an Italian nationality established.—Italy under one ruler would make a first class power, and the Italians would be to the South of Europe what the Germans are to the North. We should like to see something of this kind, and although we cannot point out how it is to be done, we hope that mighty power, Revolution, will one day accomplish it.

Nicholas County.

On Monday the political struggle in this county was one of perfect desperation. Both parties were with great zeal and energy. The Plug-Uglies, led by Mr. K. N. Davis, of Cynthiana, the (ringleader) the bow-knife and pistol party, as a forecaste of what was to be done on Monday, the 1st, were making preparations for battle. Two hundred children's Buggies and Cabs at cost for cash, only in order to reduce stock. Also two hundred Willow Cabs, twenty inch wheels, at $2 each. We advise our numerous readers to call and select one of these indispensables for children, now that they can be had for a mere trifle. m2d

EXCELSIOR IN THE BOOK LINE.—The very center of attraction is at the book store of C. Hagen & Co., 507 Main street. Persons making purchases of books and stationery will consult their own interest, and save fifty or six hundred per cent, by making their purchases of us. Our plan is to give a premium of usefulness or ornament to every purchase of a dollar's worth of books or more. The premium consists of Gold and Silver Jewelry, such as Watchs, Bracelets, Chains, Rings, Ear Draps, Shirt Stalls, Sleeve Buttons, Lockets, Thimbles, &c.

Premises exclusively in Gold and Silver Jewelry, and awarded at the time purchase is made.

In our stock will be found everything that is useful and entertaining, from the largest and most elegant bound Family Bibles, down to the smallest illustrated Juvenile Book, School Books, Medical Books, Dictionaries, Prayer Books, Hymn Books, etc.

Our plan is to make all the books in our country available to the public, and to make them at a price of which we are most desirous and bloody fights.

The Plug-Uglies struck the blow from the blue, by the bludgeon of Wm. Abbott. The father of DeLaney, running in the rescue of his son, received a mortal wound in the head. He turned from the struggle with no weapons, and not able to harm a child, when John Abbott approached him, and with a large Bowie knife, drove it into his heart, ten feet from the head, till the poor unfortunate victim of Plug-Ugly vengeance fell prostrate at the feet of a brute and cowardly assassin. The deceased was a harmless Irishman, who had long resided in this country, and had been here for many years.

He leaves many warm friends to lament so late a fate of a man whose heart was ever warmed by many generous sympathies.

Thus the Plug-Uglies have won the new list of victims that claim popularity for Douglas. Let them examine the means, and investigate the character of the men employed to elevate him in the public estimation, and then reflect upon the discrimination of the people of the North, they will not believe so much as to believe that he is considered by a safe man for the Presidency.

Louisville Manufactures.

SEAL MAKING.

It is a fact worthy of note that platform and other seals, made by Louisville workmen in Louisville workshops, are especially popular, before competent judges, with the celebrated Fairbanks' scales.

We believe Fairbanks is the most extensive manufacturer of scales in the Union—Every thing that turns out from his workshop stands, and has always stood, deservedly high.

But at the National Fair, held near Louisville in the fall of 1857, he met with successful competitor in Messrs. Nelson & Davis, scalemakers of the city. The judges awarded to the Louisville manufacturers the first premium for the superiority of the scales they exhibited over those made by any other party, shown in competition with those made by the Louisville firm.

Messrs. Nelson & Davis have been engaged in the business for several years. Their work is being done extensively by merchants, manufacturers, and others in Louisville. Seals of their make are considered, by those familiar with them, and who have thoroughly tested them by use, to be superior to any others that are sold or used in this market. Hence, the manufacturers find a ready sale for all that they can make. The business is increasing from year to year, with considerable demands from the South. They intend, on the completion of the Louisville and Nashville railway, to establish agencies at Nashville, and at other points in the South, accessible by railway, for the sale of their work, and expect, by that means, largely to increase their trade.

They are prepared to furnish every article in their line, from the finest and most delicately poised druggist's prescription scale up to a capable of weighing a loaded railway car. They guarantee the quality of all of their work, and when the buyer is disappointed (which rarely occurs) in the accuracy of the scales made by them, he is immediately furnished with such as are unexceptionable in all respects.

The factory and office of Messrs. Nelson & Davis are on Sixth street, between Market and Jefferson.

The Level of the People.

If it be admitted for the sake of argument that Judge Bullock got down to a level with the people, it can be claimed that the people got down to a level with him in the race last Monday. It seems to us that there is an awful mountain votes piled up between the Judge's candidates and the people. The mass is an Ossa on Pelion. There is no such thing as leveling the cloud-cleaving pile. There never was a ladder long enough to touch the summit of this mountain of votes, and there never will be one long enough.

If the Judge is, therefore, at the top, he will never get down; and if he is at the bottom, he will never get up. It makes no difference, therefore, whether he is on a level with the people or not in his own mind, for they are certainly not on a level with him.

The Courier is not ashamed to reiterate the fact that the people are the true brutes and corruption in the elections of last Monday, and that its own political friends missed the mark by not fighting them with their own weapons—Lou. Journal.

The Journal is not ashamed to rejoice at the victory of a party that resorted to corruption and bribery last Monday, and to feel comfortable enough, under the circumstances, to enjoy the same things at every future election in this city.

It is a singular fact that every nation of Europe is governed by a dynasty which is of foreign origin.—Louisville Journal.

It is a more singular fact that Louisville is governed by an opposition party of native origin.

DEMOCRATIC BARBERS IN THE ASHLAND District.—The Democracy of Harrison, Nelson and Bourbon have called a meeting to make preparations to celebrate the recent glorious victory achieved in the triumphant election of Capt. Wm. E. Simms.

ALABAMA.—The Democrats have carried Alabama by an immense majority. Moore, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is elected by from twenty to twenty-five thousand majority.

What Raised the Storm?

On Tuesday last, a leading Oppositionist, who figured extensively in drawing up and reading to the 22d of February Convention the "great indictment," held in his hand the Opposition campaign paper, published at Frankfort, to which he had been contributing, and said knowingly and wisely, "this is what raised the storm." Of course the meanest of the storm that had swept the Democracy from Kentucky, and waded Bell and his co-candidates into office, whether such a storm were really raised or not. It is hardly necessary to add that the Oppositionist in question had not been seen with the campaign journal in his hand since Tuesday last. He has laid down the paper in disgust, and is growing as usual ever since. We hope he will contribute to such a campaign paper often, and raise just such a storm at the approach of every election hereafter.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1859.

Reading Matter on Every Page.

I.

In the time of the Antonines the Roman Empire is said by the historian of the Decline and Fall to have extended above 3,000 miles in breadth from the wall of Antoninus and the northern limits of Dacia to Mount Alles and the tropic of Cancer, and in length more than 3,000 miles from the western ocean to the Euphrates. The same authority says that the empire contained upwards of 1,600,000 square miles, for the most part of fertile and well cultivated land.

Italy was the heart of this vast empire. It was known by the different names of Heraclia, Saturnia, Latium Ausonia, Oenotria, &c., but, under whatever name it went, it was the garden of Europe and the center of the civilized world. It was divided into two parts, Gallia Cisalpina and Italia Propria. The first of these divisions extended from the mouth of the Rubicon to that of the Macra, and the second division from the last named line to the Straights of Messina. Within these two divisions, according to the historian, Pliny, were contained 14,000,000 inhabitants. This population consisted of innumerable tribes, but all were under the one grand Government of Rome.

Italy, however, was not under one government as of old, when war broke out a few weeks ago, between Austria on the one side, and Sardinia and France on the other. In the north, the Austrians ruled Lombardy and Venetie; in the northwest, the Sardinians held Savoy and Piedmont; the center was parcelled out into Parma, Modena, Lucca, Tuscany and the Papal States, while the southern portion was the Kingdom of Naples. There was no such thing as Italian nationality.—The scepter of the Cessars had departed, and a dozen rulers divided over the imperial power of the Antonines into provincial districts.

When Napoleon III determined to help Sardinia to drive the Austrians out of Italy, it was the hope of many that he would succeed, and that an Italian nationality would be established. These hopes have been disappointed. The only real change brought about in Italy by the late war was taking Lombardy from Austria and giving it to Sardinia. This does not lessen the number of rulers in Italy, nor approach the establishing of an Italian nationality. Italy still remains under the rule of numerous petty Princes, none of whom comes within reach of a first class sovereignty.

We do not think therefore that the Italian war is ended. Armies have only ceased to fight for a time. There can be no permanent peace while so many rulers attempt to control Italy. They will quarrel among themselves, as did the petty tribes of the ancient Peninsula, until another Roman power swallows up the whole. Nor are there many persons in this country, at least, who would regret to see an Italian nationality established.—Italy under one ruler would make a first class power, and the Italians would be to the South of Europe what the Germans are to the North. We should like to see something of this kind, and although we cannot point out how it is to be done, we hope that mighty power, Revolution, will one day accomplish it.

Nicholas County.

On Monday the political struggle in this county was one of perfect desperation. Both parties were with great zeal and energy. The Plug-Uglies, led by Mr. K. N. Davis, of Cynthiana, the (ringleader) the bow-knife and pistol party, as a forecaste of what was to be done on Monday, the 1st, were making preparations for battle.

Two hundred children's Buggies and Cabs at cost for cash, only in order to reduce stock. Also two hundred Willow Cabs, twenty inch wheels, at $2 each. We advise our numerous readers to call and select one of these indispensables for children, now that they can be had for a mere trifle. m2d

EXCELSIOR IN THE BOOK LINE.—The very center of attraction is at the book store of C. Hagen & Co., 507 Main street. Persons making purchases of books and stationery will consult their own interest, and save fifty or six hundred per cent, by making their purchases of us. Our plan is to give a premium of usefulness or ornament to every purchase of a dollar's worth of books or more. The premium consists of Gold and Silver Jewelry, such as Watchs, Bracelets, Chains, Rings, Ear Draps, Shirt Stalls, Sleeve Buttons, Lockets, Thimbles, &c.

Premises exclusively in Gold and Silver Jewelry, and awarded at the time purchase is made.

In our stock will be found everything that is useful and entertaining, from the largest and most elegant bound Family Bibles, down to the smallest illustrated Juvenile Book, School Books, Medical Books, Dictionaries, Prayer Books, Hymn Books, etc.

Our plan is to make all the books in our country available to the public, and to make them at a price of which we are most desirous and bloody fights.

The Plug-Uglies struck the blow from the blue, by the bludgeon of Wm. Abbott. The father of DeLaney, running in the rescue of his son, received a mortal wound in the head. He turned from the struggle with no weapons, and not able to harm a child, when John Abbott approached him, and with a large Bowie knife, drove it into his heart, ten feet from the head, till the poor unfortunate victim of Plug-Ugly vengeance fell prostrate at the feet of a brute and cowardly assassin. The deceased was a harmless Irishman, who had long resided in this country, and had been here for many years.

He leaves many warm friends to lament so late a fate of a man whose heart was ever warmed by many generous sympathies.

Thus the Plug-Uglies have won the new list of victims that claim popularity for Douglas. Let them examine the means, and investigate the character of the men employed to elevate him in the public estimation, and then reflect upon the discrimination of the people of the North, they will not believe so much as to believe that he is considered by a safe man for the Presidency.

Louisville Manufactures.

SEAL MAKING.

It is a fact worthy of note that platform and other seals, made by Louisville workmen in Louisville workshops, are especially popular, before competent judges, with the celebrated Fairbanks' scales.

We believe Fairbanks is the most extensive manufacturer of scales in the Union—Every thing that turns out from his workshop stands, and has always stood, deservedly high.

But at the National Fair, held near Louisville in the fall of 1857, he met with successful competitor in Messrs. Nelson & Davis, scalemakers of the city. The judges awarded to the Louisville manufacturers the first premium for the superiority of the scales they exhibited over those made by any other party, shown in competition with those made by the Louisville firm.

Messrs. Nelson & Davis have been engaged in the business for several years. Their work is being done extensively by merchants, manufacturers, and others in Louisville. Seals of their make are considered, by those familiar with them, and who have thoroughly tested them by use, to be superior to any others that are sold or used in this market. Hence, the manufacturers find a ready sale for all that they can make. The business is increasing from year to year, with considerable demands from the South. They intend, on the completion of the Louisville and Nashville railway, to establish agencies at Nashville, and at other points in the South, accessible by railway, for the sale of their work, and expect, by that means, largely to increase their trade.

They are prepared to furnish every article in their line, from the finest and most delicately poised druggist's prescription scale up to a capable of weighing a loaded railway car. They guarantee the quality of all of their work, and when the buyer is disappointed (which rarely occurs) in the accuracy of the scales made by them, he is immediately furnished with such as are unexceptionable in all respects.

The factory and office of Messrs. Nelson & Davis are on Sixth street, between Market and Jefferson.

The Level of the People.

If it be admitted for the sake of argument that Judge Bullock got down to a level with the people, it can be claimed that the people got down to a level with him in the race last Monday. It seems to us that there is an awful mountain votes piled up between the Judge's candidates and the people. The mass is an Ossa on Pelion. There is no such thing as leveling the cloud-cleaving pile. There never was a ladder long enough to touch the summit of this mountain of votes, and there never will be one long enough.

If the Judge is, therefore, at the top, he will never get down; and if he is at the bottom, he will never get up. It makes no difference, therefore, whether he is on a level with the people or not in his own mind, for they are certainly not on a level with him.

The Courier is not ashamed to reiterate the fact that the people are the true brutes and corruption in the elections of last Monday, and that its own political friends missed the mark by not fighting them with their own weapons—Lou. Journal.

The Journal is not ashamed to rejoice at the victory of a party that resorted to corruption and bribery last Monday, and to feel comfortable enough, under the circumstances, to enjoy the same things at every future election in this city.

It is a singular fact that every nation of Europe is governed by a dynasty which is of foreign origin.—Louisville Journal.

It is a more singular fact that Louisville is governed by an opposition party of native origin.

DEMOCRATIC BARBERS IN THE ASHLAND District.—The Democracy of Harrison, Nelson and Bourbon have called a meeting to make preparations to celebrate the recent glorious victory achieved in the triumphant election of Capt. Wm. E. Simms.

ALABAMA.—The Democrats have carried Alabama by an immense majority. Moore, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is elected by from twenty to twenty-five thousand majority.

NOTICES.

NEW GOONS.—MARTIN & PENTON, 96 Fourth street, one door from Market, are already in receipt of New Goons, suitable for the season, and as this house has stood foremost in its endeavors to meet the wants of the early trade, purchasers can there find anything in the way of desirable or new Goods that can be found elsewhere. They assure us that this stock this season will be unsurpassed by all former purchases, and that they will promise that no house can undersell them in the same quality of Goods. Give them a call and prove it. Their number is 96 Fourth street, next to corner of Market street.

SUMMER GOONS they are offering at bargains.

"THE EXCESSIVE heat of the last few days has given a powerful tendency to develop worms in children. Dr. John Bull's Vegetable Worm Destroyer, however, offers a safe, sure and pleasant remedy for the evil. The greatest difficulty in such cases, is to get the children to take proper remedies. Dr. John Bull's Vegetable Worm Destroyer obviates completely this obstacle. Children are passionately fond of the lozenges, in which form the medicine is prepared.

DRUGGISTS.—Send for a sample.

DRUGS.—Send for a sample.

DRUGGISTS.—Send for a sample.

DRUGGISTS.—Send for a sample.

DRUGGISTS.—Send for a sample.

DAILY COURIER.

NOT ON THE BATTLE FIELD.

BY JOHN FORTIN.

"Fall on the battle field, fighting for my dear country, that would not be hard."—THE NEIGHBOUR.

O no, no—let me live
Not on the iron track I die!
Or the mad war horse crush my helmed head;
Nor the red battle brandish my spear!

That I have saved a brother's life,
Be in my hand when death

Thundered at me from beneath,

His heavy sword's here,

or glory falls of his cannon's wheels.

From such a dying bed,

Though o'er it float in stripes of white and red,

The clustered stars upon his wide spread wings.

To sparkle in my sight,

I know that beauty's eye

Is all the brighter where the gay pennants fly,

And bright helmets dance.

I know that hard have sung;

And people shoult till the wekin rung

With their hearts' strain.

When on the battle field he found a grave:

I know that o'er their bones

Have grateful hands piled monumental stones.

Some of these piles I've seen;

The one that I have seen, where

Where the first blood was shed,

And to my count'st indepedence stand;

"The Battle Monument!" at Baltimore,

And that o'er Bunker's Hill;

And that o'er the hills of Somes still;

"Thy tomb," Thermistocles,

That lie upon the green seas,

That issue from the Gulf of Salamis,

And thine, too, have I seen,

Thereon the heroes were nobly born in green,

That like a natural knoll

Such heroes grace the land.

I know where the warrior lays his head,

The conqueror dying and the conqueror's shout,

But as he grows dim,

What to the soul is him?

The mellow note? What? The roll

Of drums? No, let me say,

Where the heart beaves, "I'm loveling,

And the soft sunn air,

As it goes by, me thin, white hair,

The death damp as it gathers, and the skies

Seem to weep to receive,

My heart, that's true, or let me leave

The world, when round my bed

Wife, children, weeping friends are gathered,

And holy hymning shall my soul prepare,

The human brotherhood

By labor, care, and counsels for their good.

In my dying hour,

When rich and poor have no power

To bear the spirit up,

Or from my lips to turn aside the curse!

Let me draw refreshment from the past!

Then let my soul run back,

With peaceful thoughts, and gently track,

And see all the seeds

That I have scattered there, in virtuous deeds,

Afray, frays, of which to taste in heaven!

And though no grassy mound

Or granite pile says "tho' here ground

Shall here my remains repose—that those

Whom I loved, have strown toies,

The minister reclaimed, the fatherless,

May I be buried with them,

With poor, prisoner, and the poorest slave,

And breathe a humble prayer,

That they may die like him whose bones are mouldering

Here.

A Singular Dream.

We take the following account of a singular dream from the Western Christian Advocate.

Mr. B. had been twice married, and left a second wife with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood of his circuit, where she would make him an excellent wife, and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced. The circumstance took place which presented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured Mr. B.'s consent to meet him a second time, and the two friends met at the house of Mr. B. on the 2d day of June, 1857. Mr. B. was again twice married, and left a widow with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements Mr. B. inferred the Lord did not design him to enjoy the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all his time and energies to the enjoyment of a legal relation and never attempt to select another partner in his. This resolution he so sacredly kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsels of the friends in the State of Indiana prevailed with him to change his course. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters, requiring so much a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to give up his resolution. He was found in error. The minister, however, the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over B., took the little girl to a certain village in a certain neighborhood